MATHS

ENGLISH

The children have been writing persuasive leaflets and stories. We have also been practicing writing dialogue and considering the range of punctuation needed.
Homework - There are comic strip panels with blank speech/thought bubbles. Decide what each character is saying and write the dialogue correctly.
Spellings - The children have 5 key words and 5 words with the ed endings to learn for a test on Thursday.

RE

This week, we have looked at the Pope's letter to the world, 'Laudato Si' (Care for Our Common Home). We have discussed how our actions can impact on others and the wider environment. The CAFOD website has more information www.cafod.org.uk.

Turn the Garfield comic strip panels into prose. You don't need to write inside the speech / thought bubbles.

1) Look at each comic strip panel.
2)Decide what the characters could be saying / thinking.
2) Look at what the characters are doing.
3) Write the dialogue and description for each panel.
4) Remember correct punctuation.
5) Remember, new speaker, new line!

For example:
"Garfield, will you ever stop being lazy?" asked Jon. "I could stop but I'm not a quitter," he thought, pointing to the ceiling.
